AT THE MOVIES

Hosted by Molly Murphy

Join Molly Murphy at the Visulite this Thursday, March 3rd, doors open 6:30 PM!

This Thursday marks our second Music at the Movies event at Visulite Cinemas.

Local musician Molly Murphy of Judy Chops and Queen City Music fame will be joining us as our host for the evening. Before the movie, she will perform a few songs. Following the film, she will host a Q&A discussion about the movie.

If you already bought a pass or a ticket, your name will be on a list at the door and/or you can bring your receipt as proof of purchase. PLEASE REMEMBER TO BRING YOUR COVID VACCINATION CARD which will be checked at the door. If you still need to buy ticket, click the link below:

About Wild Rose

Rose-Lynn is a wannabe country singer in Glasgow, just out of prison and reunited with her kids (who've been cared for by their loving grandmother). Despite strong ties to home, Rose-Lynn aspires to stardom in Nashville. As the LA Times nicely summarized: "Wild Rose is about finding expression through song - and finding yourself in your hometown." The film's star, Jessie Buckley, was recently nominated for an Oscar for her performance in The Lost Daughter.

Music at the Movies Testimonials

(from real audience members from previous Music at the Movies events):

Wow, mind-blowing experience at the movies last night with Arcadia Project. Thanks for a really unforgettable event. I'm looking forward to next month already! – Lynne

Last night's event was awesome, and Chance showed such sensitivity and grace in introducing a potentially jarring film to an (older, white) audience. The discussion was fascinating, and it was noteworthy that many chose to stay despite the lateness. – Christina

Greg and I attended the movie event last night and thought it went well. Attendance may have been affected adversely by the weather but there was still a respectable — and participative— crowd. Looking forward to the next one! - Jackie
