

Let's face it, good looks aren't cheap! 100K grant

Arcadia Project received an Industrial Revitalization Fund (IRF) Planning Grant for $100,000 through the Virginia Department of Housing and Community Development. The grant will be used to develop construction documents and create financial and capital development plans. This is another step in the right direction to turn the Arcadia Project into the cultural center of Staunton's dreams.

And the building's already being put to use!

Last weekend, local Mary Baldwin University graduate theater group, the Polaris Shakespeare Co., took over the Arcadia Project building on March 25th and 26th to stage "Theater in the Rough." They engaged our bare theater added lights, props, actors, and suddenly, made art. The group performed Shakespeare's play Coriolanus all while in freezing temperatures. Hats off to them for making magic happen.
