

ARCADIA PROJECT

Here's to a Year of New Beginnings!

Now that the new year is in full swing, we want to take a moment to thank you for your continued support. Your passion for the arts makes all the difference, and we're truly grateful to have you with us as we look forward to the exciting year ahead.

We wish you a prosperous and fulfilling 2025. May it be a year of creativity, connection and inspiring performances.

Warmly,
The Arcadia Project Team

Main Street Virginia comes to Arcadia Project!

On Thursday, Jan. 23rd, the SDDA hosted 40 people from other Virginia cities that are Main Street communities. Board member Danny Brown introduced them to our building and our upcoming goals.

Arcadia Project Has a New Intern!

Meet Carmen Kennedy...

"Hello. I'm a senior at Bridgewater College majoring in digital media arts with a minor in communications. My main medium is photography. I wanted to intern with the Arcadia Project to learn more about marketing and because I value art and creativity. I believe every community needs a place to express themselves freely through various art forms."

Your Advocacy Matters

You create a ripple effect when you stand up for the Arcadia Project! We ask that you Bring Who You Are and that you tell others Who We Are! Let your friends and family members know why you believe in the Arcadia Project's work. Guide them to our website so they too can learn our story. Stay tuned for more updates as we create a future for more culture and creativity in downtown Staunton!
